Dispatches From Huerta Officials Claim Defeat of Villa at Torreon.

Mexico City, Mex., April 2.—The federal capital was ignorant today of the fall of Torreon. None of the newspapers contained any intimation of the fall of Torreon. None of the newspapers contained any intimation of the federal defeat.

On the contrary all gave assurances that general Javier de Moure had won a great victory over the rehels close to Torreon, while the rebels were trying to prevent him and his reinforcing army from effecting a junction with Velusco, the federal commander.
General Velasco is alleged by the newspapers to have repulsed Villa's rebel army, which, it is said, "has retifed definitely and is attempting to reorganize at finence."
General Blanquet today denied to the Associated Press that there was any truth in the report of the fall of Torreon.

Torreon.

As this as noon no paper had published the news and it was doubtful whether a dozen persons in the federal capital were aware of the facts.

"Not only does Gen. Velasco continue to hold Torreon." and Gen. Blanquet, "but the rebels have stopped their attack. I do not presume to say they will not return to the attack, for probably they will do so.

"At present the rebels are holding positions in the north of Torreon. They are between Gen. de Moure, who is at San Pedro, and the forces at Torreon. Gen. Moure's force is in good shape. It has been reinforced by Gen. Mans and I expect it was further strengthened today."

ened today."

While there is a large element of the federal capital who are believed to sympathize secretly with the revolution and who would hall with delight news of rebel successes, they are kept in doubt regarding events in the north. There is a strict censorship here and also a lack of communication. Today being a church holiday, the natives devoted themselves to a celebration in honor of Santa Anita. The government offices were closed as well as many business houses.

MEXICO CITY KNOWS NOTHING OF DEFEAT

Washington, D. C. April 3.—The Mexican embassy here today still chaimed victors for the federal forces at Torreon. Charge Algara today gave out this statement.

"An official dispatch signed by the secretary of foreign affairs, senor Lopes Portiflo y Rojas, has just been received at the embassy, giving an account of the crushing defeat of the rebel forces under Villa at Torreon.
Gen. Meas, who left Saltillo several days ago with federal reinforcements, has arrived at Torreon. The government has succeeded in raising a loan of over $50,000,000 pesos, which will materially assist it in its efforts towards pacification."

Different Region to Face.

Marching south from Junrez to Torreon, Villa has been in a rebel country, where it was inhabited—much of it was desert—but beyond Torreon he will enter the populated regions that have not taken much part in the revolutions of the past or present. He will find more friendship for Huerta than for himself. He will find a country not so badly depleted by war, however; one on which it will be easier to sustain an army.

Some of the flercest fighting occurred in the hills south of Gomez Palacio and west of Torreon. It raged where the federals made their last desperate stand, and from which they finally fied, followed by a column of Huerta's Reserve Scheme.

On Jan. 7 last the president made state bank currency legal tender on condition that these banks should conserve in their vaults the metal reserve required by their concessions, and that a guarantee fund based on a percentage of their note issue be deposited with the Banco Nacional; the guarantee fund is administered by a board, two of the members elected by the state banks, one by the clearing house at the capital, and one by the government. The guarantee fund Twice the robels took two of the Twice the rebels took two of the hills, only to lose them, but all the time the attack was becoming more formidable as the soldiers, attacking from all sides except the west, fighting from house to house, drew the circle closer about the enemy.

all was the roar and thunder of the cannon.

Both sides used armored trains. These, with big guns mounted, would suddenly appear around an elbow of one of the hills, discharge a broadside and then retire. Early in the attack on Gomez Palacio, they happened to venture out at the same time and a lively exchange of shors ensued, like a naval engagement on land.

The federals made use of huge rockets, which were shot to a great height, exploding in the air and letting down a hall of buckshot.

Rain Briags Rellef.
On the fourth day of the fight, the overnment. The guarantee fund could be used to insure the redemp-on in coin, of the bills of any state ank which might be temporarily unable to redeem its notes. Another decree of Jan. 7 authorized banks to issue notes for three times the amount of their cash reserves instead of dou-

Rain Brings Relief.

On the fourth day of the fight, the intense suffering from heat and thirst was relieved by a rain thought to have been brought on by the heavy firing. In the course of the battle scouts brought word that federal reinforcements from Monterey were approaching on the east. Gen. Herrera was sent against them and later reported that he had sent them scurrying into the bills. There is no discrimination in the City of Mexico against bills of most of the state banks. The banks of Morelos, Michonean, Oaxaca, Chiapas, Nuevo Leon, and the Banco Mercantil de Monterey, last January did not put up the percentage of reserves in the hands of the Banco Nacional, as required by federal decree, and hence the circulation of these bills is limited to the states in which issued. However, practically all of the bills have been retired, of the banks of Michonean, Oaxaca, and Chiapas.

Following is a list of all the banks of issue whose bills have been decreed legal tender by the federal government, and which have deposited in the Banco Nacional the reserve as required by the federal decree of last January: the bills. Great supplies of food, ammunition and artillery and stores of cotton fell into the rebel hands by the capture.

In that event we would have been at the extreme southern or eastern part of the district, while we are not in the center of our own trade territory and the location of a branch bank here is the only logical thing to be done. Of course I am sorry about Globe, but we got everything eise. The committee certainly did its work with as little friction as possible and the thing for us to do now is to go right to work on a campaign for the branch bank.
